CHINESE HAVE ADOPTED MASS MARRIAGE PLAN

Aid Dan Cupid In His Battle Against Hard Times

By Morris J. Harris
Associated Press Staff Foreign Staff
Shanghai, April 3.—(P)—China moved today to cut the cost of marriage to depression levels.

A "mass marriage plan" designed to aid Dan Cupid in his battle against hard times was officially launched as General Wu Tchen, mayor of greater Shanghai, married 75 couples at once.

Without the frills and extravagance characterizing the usual Chinese marriage—which may cost hundreds or thousands of dollars—the 114 Chinese men and women, some young, some old, marched by eights to the altar, bowed three times before the state of Sun Yat-sen, China, "George Washington," twice before each other, once to the mayor and were quickly pronounced man and wives.

Each couple paid the equivalent of about seven American dollars, the price including brilliantly decorated wedding certificates, silver medals inscribed with the names of man and wife and gifts for the bride.

The ceremony, which lasted about two minutes, took place in the palatial new city hall of the Shanghai Chinese government. The hall was big enough for today's throng but the outdoors will be used, the chief of the marriage registration bureau said, "if we find the hall in the administration building too small."

Those married today included school teachers, minor city officials, shopkeepers, small business men and others of similar status. Their ages ranged from the minimum, 16 for boys and 16 for girls, to 50 or more.

Allred Orders Texas Prison Investigation

Claim Brutality Causes Convicts to Cut Their Legs Off

Austin, Texas, April 3.—(P)—Governor James V. Allred ordered Ranger Captain Fred McDaniel to the retrieve state prison farm today to investigate reports that brutality of guards prompted convicts to maim themselves "by cutting their legs off."

Other officials—conducting independent inquiries—depreciated the charge of W. A. Boyett, prison board member, that conditions on the farm were "disgraceful."

"We did find," said Lee Simmons, prison system manager, "that those convicts had been chopping off their feet and hands to get out of work, but that has been going on for years."

"W. C. Paddock of Houston, chairman of the prison board, said:

"Pshaw, there is no occasion for anything like a ranger investigation."

Allred explained that he detailed McDaniel to the farm because he was the only man available to "look into the situation."

Bovett wired the governor that convicts were maiming themselves to escape the brutality of the guards in the fields.

Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville said the "citizenship of Texas" would praise Captain I. K. Kelly of the retrieve farm, where many of the long-term convicts are confined.

"He has had an average of more than 350 of the worst convicts in the prison system in his charge and has had only four escapes in four years," Burns said. "He has a bunch of bad 'hombres' there who don't want to work."

M'SWAIN BILL WILL PASS IN PRESENT FORM

Amendments Barred From Munitions Measure

By Richard L. Turner
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, April 3.—(P)—Although the measure was called a "farce and a joke," the house today quickly crushed an attempt to attach the drastic tax provisions approved by the senate munitions committee to the McSwain bill for the elimination of huge war profits.

By a 258 to 1 vote, the house stood by a rule to prevent amendments to the bill, thus virtually assuring passage in its present form.

On the other side of the capitol, meanwhile, the munitions committee listened to pungent testimony that a former congressman solicited a shipbuilding concern for business while in office and that a "friend of James Roosevelt" tried to turn naval building contracts to a private yard.

In addition, it heard evidence from which chairman Nye (R-ND) drew the conclusion that "just preceding every naval appropriation bill before congress, we have had a Japanese war scare."

He asked the question: "how many of these scares have been stirred up for the personal interest of shipbuilders?"

The query went unanswered.

Opponents of the bill by representative McSwain (D-SO) took the offensive at the beginning of the house squabble over procedure.

The McSwain bill would freeze prices at the level at which a declaration of war finds them; empower the president to commandeer "material resources, industrial organizations and public services," and authorize him to set up a license system for any class of industry. The plan has been attributed to Bernard Baruch, New York financier.

The senate bill stipulates taxes which would limit industrial profits to three per cent of investment, and salaries to $10,000 a year, with incorporation officers drafted, and subject to transfer to combat units in case of failure to cooperate.

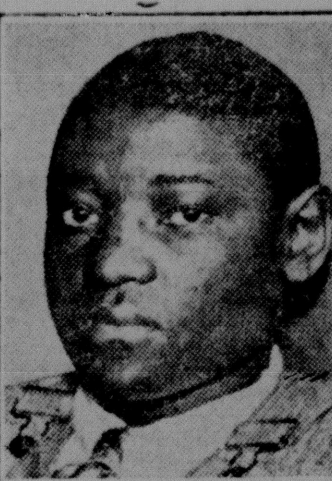

The reference to "war scares" in connection with naval appropriation bills arose from evidence that W. S. Newell, president of the Bath company, had supplied newspapers with war clippings at such a time.

"Is this the only effort you exerted to stir up a scare?" Nye asked.

"The only one I know of," Newell replied.

AUTO DRIVER'S LICENSE BILL IS APPROVED

Measure Voted Out Favorably By Committee

By Byno E. Tipps
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(P)—The driver's license bill, intended to make driving safer on highways and streets, today was voted out favorably by the house judiciary committee.

Representatives from various safety organizations and civic clubs throughout the state appeared before the committee and spoke in favor of the bill, emphasizing the claim that such a law would reduce highway accidents and fatalities.

Sidney J. Williams of Chicago, representing the national safety council, said the bill is aimed primarily at two classes of drivers: those who are incompetent and ignorant of how to handle a motor vehicle properly, and those who know how to drive but are careless.

He said that Illinois had an increase of 16.1 per cent in highway accidents and deaths last year above the number for 1933. He declared that the requirement of all drivers to pass an examination on driving conditions would keep off the highways those who are a menace to safe driving.

Williams said that the bill aims to be self-supporting in its administration and that the fee of 50 cents for every three years was reasonable. He discussed revocation and suspension of driving permits, by which violators would be punished.

Others who spoke in favor of the bill included Leslie J. Sorenson, chief traffic engineer of Chicago, B. P. Alschuler of Aurora, and Fred Stowe of Peoria, members of the executive committee of the Illinois conference on highway safety legislation.

WORKMAN BURIED

Alton, Ill., April 3.—(P)—Bernard Wiltshire, a laborer, was buried beneath tons of earth today when the edge of a sink hole where his truck was standing gave way.

Wiltshire was standing on the rear of the truck when the slide began. The truck dropped into the sink hole and within a few minutes it and the man were buried.

WON'T TAKE OFFICE

Blue Springs, Mo., April 3.—(P)—Mrs. Wood McGuire is the people's choice, that doesn't mean a thing to her.

Although not a candidate at yesterday's election, she was elected Blue Springs police judge by a write-in vote. Today she declined.

OPERATED ON

Denver, April 3.—(P)—Mrs. Clyde Beatty, wife of the lion tamer, was operated on today for appendicitis. Physicians, a short time after the operation, said her condition was good. Beatty is participating in a Denver Shrine excursion.

By the Associated Press.
Centralia and Mt. Vernon were without gas last (Wednesday) night as an unexpected strike of several Illinois Power and Light Company employees hit several cities.

Other places affected were Danville, Peoria, DuQuoin, Belleville, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Hillsboro and Wood River. Only in Centralia, Mt. Vernon and Peoria were services affected.

Peoria was without street car and electric bus service for two hours and workers were forced for a time to "thumb" rides. Service was restored there when company superintendents recalled the eleven strikers. A conference was underway looking toward settlement.

Frank Egan, district manager of the utility company, said the walkout was ordered by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers without notice or without presentation of grievances.

No violence was reported, although in Danville extra police were ordered out to prevent trouble. Danville strikers said they walked out because the company refused to recognize the union, although elsewhere strikers asserted one cause of the walkout was a wage dispute.

Director Fears Rubber Workers Going On Strike

Ralph A. Lind Of Labor Board Trying to Avert Walkout

Akron, O., April 3.—(P)—Ralph A. Lind, Regional Labor Board director, said tonight he will seek a "common sense" settlement of the threatened strike of rubber workers when he discusses the matter with the management of the three major tire companies tomorrow.

"I would hate to see a strike," Lind said, "but it appears now that there will be one."

"Regardless of whether a majority of the rubber workers want a strike," he continued, "the union is demanding one and so it becomes a practical problem, demanding a practical solution."

Although union workers in only one of the companies have voted so far on the question of a strike, the federation leaders by inference warned that a walkout will be called if their ultimatum is rejected.

There was no immediate indication what action the companies would take. The three concerns are the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., the B. F. Goodrich Co. and the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., which employ approximately 35,000 workmen.

Barbara Hutton Meets Old Friend

Reno, Nev., April 3.—(P)—Princess Barbara Hutton Midland and James Blakeley, to whom she once was engaged, are believed to have met here today, but whether they talked of things romantic was another of the big question-marks punctuating the residence here of the divorcee-bound Woolworth heiress.

From Blakeley, 26-year-old New York socialite who turned to Hollywood because he was "bored" by the eastern society whirl, came the statement that as an "old friend" he was in Reno "just to say hello."

Then, like Barbara—who to all of Reno and its divorce is a princess of complete mystery—he "checked out," leaving his hotel for an unknown destination and the seduction that his glamorous "old friend" has maintained since a chartered transcontinental airplane landed here Saturday.

ALEXANDER WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS WITH MISS RACHEL HALL

The members of the Alexander Woman's club were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Rachel Hall. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. John Weigand.

The program for the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. J. W. Reif and Mrs. O. E. Ryan and was as follows:

Piano duet—Mrs. Lester R. Gray and Mrs. Elmer Strawn.

Group of readings—Mrs. Roy Davenport.

Violin solo—Jack Gray, accompanied by Mrs. Lester Gray.

Group of songs—Dale Beerup, Jack Tobin, Jack Gray, accompanied by Mrs. Lester Gray.

Roll call—Current Events.

Mrs. O. E. Ryan then gave a very interesting description by views and newspaper clippings of the Rose Pageant held recently in Pasadena.

The hostess served a dainty refreshment course at the conclusion of the meeting.

Guests present were Mrs. Roy Davenport, Mrs. Henry Holt, Mrs. Chris Dahman, Miss Phoebe Hall, Miss Flora Hall, Mrs. Anson Cantillas and Mrs. Fred Neal.

The next meeting will be on April 17 at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hess.

SECURITY BILL TO BE FORCED THRU CONGRESS

May Use "Gag Rule" To Block All The Amendments

By Clarence M. Wright
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, April 3.—(P)—First returns from a survey of house sentiment led Democratic leaders to forecast in a tentative and limited way that the social securities bill would be forced through without any changes save those approved by the ways and means committee.

They still deferred until Friday the final decision on whether a stringent so-called "gag-rule" should be used to prevent amendment when the bill is brought up next week. But responsible spokesmen said privately they believed the house would agree to procedure forbidding any amendment save those offered by the ways and means committee.

Party leaders were insistent that they would not propose a "gag-rule" unless the ways and means committee were equally insistent that after 10 weeks of studying the bill they did not want it changed by amendments adopted on the floor after ten minutes debate.

But in lining up votes for a rule permitting only committee amendments, the committee members were having a difficult time convincing some members that they should take away from themselves the right to offer amendments from the floor.

A number declined flatly to do so, contending that the senate would amend the bill from first to last anyhow and that the house at least should have the chance.

Talk of telephone calls and personal appeals from high administration officials, however, floated around, all to the effect that requests were to pass the bill without change.

AUSTRIA WILL INCREASE ITS ARMED FORCES

Decide To Follow The Example Set By Germany

By Alvin J. Steinkopf,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Vienna, April 3.—(P)—The Austrian government tonight decided to follow Germany's example in increasing its armed forces.

A 90-word communique issued shortly after the cabinet met with Premier Kurt Schuschnigg presiding disclosed that steps to achieve that end already have been started.

Under the treaty of St. Germain, Austria's army was limited to 30,000 men, this figure including officers and "depot troops."

The communique asserted Austria's right to arms equality, saying:

"The cabinet expressed the unanimous conception that the granting to Austria of full equality was a self evident supposition."

Whether military conscription such as that re-instituted in Germany in mid-March was contemplated was not revealed. The statement said only that "the necessary procedure to increase the armed forces has been started."

Military circles, however, lent attention to reports that an immediate effort would be made to increase the present army from 30,000 to 60,000 and that such effort would be "accompanied by the gradual elimination of private armies such as the Heimwehr and the Catholic storm troops."

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB AT WOODSON SELECTS OFFICERS

Woodson, April 3.—The Household Science club has entertained today at the home of Mrs. Francis Decker, with Miss Eva Mortimer as assistant hostess. During the business session, in charge of the president, Mrs. Elsie Newman, officer for the year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. Lillie Atkinson.

Vice President—Mrs. Myrtle Crane.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Francis Decker.

The program presented was:

Paper, "Proper planting of a garden"—Mrs. Lillie Atkinson.

Paper, "Carré Jacob Bonds"—Mrs. Florence Darwent.

Debate, Resolved: That the country club members make a greater effort to attend the club than the village members." Affirmative: Mrs. Sadie Butler and Mrs. Nora Loneragan. Negative: Mrs. Hazel Irlam, and Mrs. Margaret Owings. The debate was won by the affirmative.

During the social hour, a contest was enjoyed, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Guests were Mrs. Susan Irlam, Mrs. Mae Virgin, Mrs. Orville Becker, Mrs. Stella Rawlings, Mrs. McDevitt, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Frank Tarzwell, Miss Helen Crane, Mrs. Emma Hemmrough.

Illinois House Told State Must Raise $3,000,000 Each Month For Relief Purposes

By Milburn P. Akers
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(P)—The Illinois house came back from vacation today to find that its mind hasn't been made up about relief.

Action was limited to receiving in silence the report of the Adamowski committee concerning its trip to Washington last week during which it learned again that the federal emergency relief administration is satisfied with the dispensing of unemployment funds in Illinois as long as the state furnishes $3,000,000 monthly.

More than a hundred members of the house, who had been on vacation for two weeks, made no effort to take any action on bills to increase the gasoline and sales taxes and to reorganize the Illinois emergency relief commission.

Critics of the relief commission did not comment on the "cherry blossom junket" made to Washington at an expense of about $500.00.

Legislative and administration leaders apparently were uncertain about what should be done about the relief problem, since the $9,000,000 appropriated three months ago to the IERC will be spent on April 15. There was talk of rushing through a "stop-gap" appropriation. Another possibility was that Governor Horner, who has been ill in Chicago, might go to Washington to confer with Harry L. Hopkins of the FERA.

The only dissent raised was a supplemental report by L. M. Green of Rockford, Republican leader who was a member of the committee that went to Washington.

Green said he did not agree with Aubrey Williams, Hopkins' chief assistant, about the requirement that Illinois contribute $3,000,000 monthly, the method used to arrive at the figure and the "fairness and justice" of the distribution of the relief load among the states.

The Adamowski report said Williams had explained that Illinois was assigned $3,000,000 annually because:

1. The state's wealth and income is such that it has been placed in the class of those able to raise $5 per capita for unemployment. That would approximate $33,000,000.
2. About $3,000,000 could be raised by a "model tax levy," which was explained as a theoretical estimate as to the amount that could be raised by a model taxation system.
3. A two per cent sales tax, on 1933 business, would bring in $34,500,000.

If Illinois should fail to raise the full $3,000,000 monthly, Washington officials were quoted as saying the federal grants would not be increased with the results that the amount of relief funds available for each family would be reduced.

OAK PARK GIRL ASLEEP 3 YEARS IS AWAKENING

Patricia Maguire Is Awake Eight Or Ten Hours A Day

Chicago, April 3.—(P)—After three long years, the "Sleeping Beauty" of Oak Park is awake, eyes wide and alert to catch what is happening in the dim world around her.

The medical log of Patricia Maguire's slow climb from darkness toward light was made public tonight in the first report of her physician, Dr. Eugene F. Traut, to the medical profession. It appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

On Feb. 15, 1932, Miss Maguire dropped into the baffling sleep of acute epidemic encephalitis. She was 30 years old Monday.

For more than a year she has been without medicine, for the most heroic methods of scientific medication proved ineffectual.

But for 17 months, Dr. Traut asserted, "there have been signs of returning intelligence."

During the night she is apparently in a deep, natural sleep. . . .

"She has recently been awake for eight or ten hours of the day, with the eyes open and an alert expression."

The physician revealed for the first time that, despite regular massages that have kept her muscles firm and strong, one leg has become shorter than the other. The right is now a half inch shorter than the left, and its circumference at the thigh an inch less.

He related incontrovertible evidence of the awakening, however slow:

"She will blink her eyes if a finger is thrust at them. If her arm or leg is rotated and she is directed to hold the extremity still after 20 rotations, she will stiffen the arm or leg at the proper time without being informed of the number of rotations made."

"She will grasp a finger or, at times, raise her hand or smile on demand."

"She will read and follow these commands if written on a slate."

"When asked how many children various families had when she became ill, she designates the correct number by raised fingers. When told of additions to these families within the last three years she will give the correct new number if asked several days following the time she was informed. She also signaled that her uncle had died two years ago."

"She recently has held her head up while sitting. She watches people working in her room. She will stop eating to investigate the actions of another person in the room. She nods the head to answer a question in the affirmative."

For months, during the more acute period of her illness, Patricia had to be nourished with liquids fed to her by tube through the nose. She was unable to swallow. But now, for months, she has swallowed normally. Her eyes do not react normally to light.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the medical journal, in an editorial commenting on the report, noted that "long periods of somnolence are not altogether extraordinary." He found 64 cases in medical annals up to 1931, involving attacks of unnatural sleep ranging from a few minutes to years.

Half Million New Farms In United States

Have Sprung Up During Last Five Years Census Bureau Report Shows

By W. B. Ragsdale
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, April 3.—(P)—Half a million new farms were estimated today by census bureau officials to have sprung up in the United States in the last five years.

So far as there are any indications in the preliminary returns from the farm census most officials said they believed the increase attributable to persons who went back to the country from city jobs that vanished in the depression. They did not think the work of the farm program had much to do with the jump.

The farm census is in the concluding stages insofar as the gathering of statistics is concerned but it will be months yet before the tabulations are completed and a rounded picture of the trend is produced.

In 1930, the last general census showed 6,300,000 farms in the United States. When the present count started, officials estimated it would show 6,500,000. But William L. Austin, the director of the census, said today:

"We now know from the returns that are in that the figure is going higher than that. It will show at least 300,000 more farms than in 1930 and probably 500,000 more."

Two other things also are being demonstrated by returns thus far received. There are more small farms than there were in 1930. And there are a lot of persons on farms now who were in cities five years ago.

Many of these farmers it was indicated spend the winters in other sections and come back home in the spring.

PEACE RESTORED

Berkeley, Calif., April 3.—(P)—Peace was restored at the civilian conservation corps camp at Strawberry Canyon today when the cook was fired.

"Too much water in the lamb curry" was the indignant cry of 44 workers at the camp near here in a protest walkout from the noon meal.

Capt. R. H. Ennis, in charge, fined the demonstrators but granted their demand for a new cook.

AGED MAN DIES

Pana, Ill., April 2.—(P)—Dan Rarin, who with his brother, John, were believed to be the oldest twins in Illinois, died today at the age of 86.

The Rarins were born in Brazil, Ind., December 17, 1839.

Not Wanted Anywhere

Harry Gerguson, alias "Prince Michael Romanoff," has a hard time staying either in jail or out, being able only to stay rather permanently in the headlines. He was released on a charge of disorderly conduct in New York on account of an unpaid hotel bill. But before he could get out of the courtroom a federal officer picked him up on a charge of violating probation.

Gerguson has moved in society poising as a Russian prince. He has seemed to get away with this stall for several years, but has been in trouble much of the time with legal authorities. He was formerly a pants-presser in Hillsboro, Ill.

Authorities in that city have indicated Mr. Gerguson need not return there. The federal government would like to deport him to the country from which he claims to come. He is a typical example of what happens to any man who tries to be something other than what he is.

Perhaps if Gerguson would throw away his alias and be himself he could keep out of trouble. Pressing pants may not be as lucrative a trade as princing about among glib socialists, but it is far safer.

Growing Older

Some of the faults discovered in American character and manners are credited to the fact that ours is the youngest great nation on the earth.
We are accused of being too noisy at parties, too egotistical and unable to enjoy ourselves without resorting to much racket.

We take these accusations good naturally and note with satisfaction some evidences that we are growing older. First, we are beginning to entertain ideas generated among the isms of Europe.

Many of our more conservative people are alarmed over this evidence of age. They say we might drift into fascism or communism, either of which would be a great sin. All we hope is, the holes dug in those paths won't be too deep. We'd hate to break our national neck, as much as we now hate to have it twisted by critics.

We note also that our trend is toward higher taxes. We have always groined about taxes, but we now wish we had waited awhile to vent our spleen. Higher taxes are with us, tho we have not yet learned the art of taxing nearly so well as our ancestral lands across the sea. But of course we are still young. Give us time.

Then there is the trend toward a closely regulated economic life. The older nations have learned to make every foot of land produce something, to conserve forests, and to control factories and trades. We are learning these things rapidly now, tho we are still young enough to have so much land that we don't need all of it in production. But America is growing older, and perhaps some day our critics will be satisfied with us.

He Spoke Too Roughly

A soft answer on the part of Herr Hitler when he sat around the table with the British diplomats might have turned away the wrath of the Allies over his rearment program. But the German leader, believing he had everything in his favor, demanded "gun for gun" and made it plain he would be satisfied with nothing less than armed equality with his neighbors.

But the tide has turned. Sir Anthony Eden has been traveling about Europe getting security agreements tentatively worked out with Russia and Poland, and he is still visiting the capitals. Russia comes to an understanding with England.
Poland appears to see eye to eye with the handsome young British diplomat.
Within a few days Italy, France and England will hold a conference which will likely bring forth a security agreement that other nations will be invited to join.

It will be Hitler's privilege also to agree if he wishes. And no doubt by the time Capt. Eden returns to London Hitler will be ready to talk more mildly rather than face a steel ring if he should choose to fight.

Views of the Press

HE HANDLES ONLY SIMPLE PROBLEMS.
Cedar Rapids Gazette

From Washington comes the reassuring announcement that the revolving Dr. Townsend will not run for President next year "under any circumstances." The aged inventor of the pretentious Townsend old age pension plan, questioned as to his rumored aspirations to the Presidency, explains that he is "not fitted for it mentally or physically."

That is a significant admission.
Physical unfitness would have been enough to explain the lack of political ambition. Dr. Townsend is pretty old to be taking on the heavy responsibilities that go with the title of President of the United States.

The lack of mental capacity was brought up by the doctor himself just for good measure. It is something of a surprise to hear Dr. Townsend admit, in effect, that he isn't smart enough to be President, though many were prepared, of course, to entertain the idea. The admission serves to narrow and clarify the scope of the discussion.

All Dr. Townsend claims now, it appears, is that he is smart enough to devise a simple scheme that will solve in a flash all the economic problems that have stumped the last two Presidents and everybody else for six years. On the surface this claim, if allowed, would seem to establish Dr.
Townsend's mental quality to the task of being President. But we are not one to jump to conclusions if we can help it. We are quite willing to accept Dr. Townsend's own opinion on the matter and let it go at that.

among New Deal lawyers led the government to drop the Belcher case—though it had been picked as the strongest supreme court test of NRA constitutionality.

Circumstances of the retreat are almost, though perhaps not quite, as ridiculous as the incident appears on the surface.

Stanley Reed, new solicitor general, made the decision and persuaded Attorney General Cummings, Donald Richberg, and Roosevelt to concur with him.

The Belcher case, involving violation of wage and hour provisions under the lumber code which defense lawyers insisted were illegal along with the code itself, was due to be argued by Reed before the high court.

NRA and Justice Department lawyers had argued it tenderly, speeding it along for what they fondly hoped would be the most complete vindication of the New Deal in the courts.

Reed took a good look at the case and said: "Hell, no!"

Sure of a Beating

The logic behind the decision was this:

The administration can count on adverse decisions from four of the nine justices any time it goes before the supreme court with a New Deal measure. To win, it must be sure of support from Hughes, Brandeis, Stone, Roberts, and Cardozo.

Brandeis is known to be violently opposed to improper delegations of power. The lumber code goes to the almost incredible extreme of permitting a code authority consisting of private individuals to allocate production among lumber manufacturers with no provision for NRA review.

Reed felt—and he was supported by Prof. Felix Frankfurter, chief apostle of Brandeis—that Brandeis would rip the code to shreds with a roar that might shake New Deal foundations.

NRA lawyers, who fought bitterly against abandonment of the case, had assumed the court would be nice enough to confine itself solely to the question of wages and hours.

But it was recalled that the court had decided the recent oil case on a point which had never been raised and that one illegal provision in a code might be used to throw the whole thing out.

Look and Feel Silly

At least one high NRA official refers to the lumber code privately as "our filthiest, loudest code." Big fellows in the industry have been permitted to do the allocating and many serious abuses have been reported to
NRA. The code is going to be changed.

Previous buildup and ballyhoo of the Belcher case as NRA's "perfect test case" are what make the whole episode seem so silly now. And silly is exactly the way quite a few NRA people are feeling.

Chances are, however, that the inevitably bad effect on code compliance will be largely offset by a new and

Four Library Bills Before Legislature Find Ready Support

Clubs of Illinois Rally to Measures Which Would Extend Service

Women's clubs in the state are rallying to the support of the four library bills recently introduced in the Illinois Legislature by the Honorable Thomas P. Sime, according to a report just received by Miss Charlotte Ryan, librarian of the Jacksonville Public Library.

The library legislation which would extend library service to the two million people in the state now without it, and which would appropriate $600,000 from the state fund toward purchasing new books for empty shelves is given the support of women's clubs in many sections of the state, according to a report received Wednesday from Mrs. L. F. Dunstan, chairman of Library and Library Service of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

Women's clubs are aware of the increased need for an opportunity for all of the people to read books in this crisis of swiftly changing economic and social conditions, the report shows. Never before have so many people had so much leisure and at the same time been so much disturbed about the chaotic conditions about them.

Thousands of men and women have been driven to the public libraries of the state to get more information from books and periodicals about the causes and factors of the present economic chaos.

Barren shelves of libraries and no funds for buying the latest books dealing with the present situation, as well as no cash for replacing thousands of the old "stand-bys," now threadbare and unusable, have caused the women of the state to pledge their support to bills aimed to relieve the library poverty. It was stated.

The tremendous rush to libraries in the last few years is noted by women's organizations, especially by those which helped to establish libraries in different sections of the state and who have lent a helping hand in developing their programs and in watching their growth.

It is this increased patronage of libraries together with the shortage of funds which have brought libraries to their present desperate conditions,
the club women recognize.

Registered library borrowers in Illinois in 1933 numbered 1,602,455 larger than the total enrollment for public schools, elementary and high schools, which was 1,408,373 in 1933, according to Mr. Michael F. Gallagher, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Illinois Library Association. These needs and demands of men and women, boys and girls for books for recreation and study are now being

HIGH WATERCREST IS PASSING DUBUQUE

Dubuque, Ia.—(P)—Islands in the Mississippi river at Dubuque and lowlands on both sides of the river were completely under water today as the crest of the high water was reached with a stage of 16.1 feet. Flood stage at Dubuque is 18 feet.

Weather bureau officials said that the crest would pass Dubuque today, with no material rise. The crest stage is expected to remain for three or four days.

The high water has caused a large number of families to desert homes and cottages on islands and along the river banks and many of these homes are now partially under water.

MARKHAM VOTES DRY BY LARGE MAJORITY

Citizens "Crack Down" on Liquor, 343 to 112

Markham road district has gone dry. In the election Tuesday the citizens voted 343 to 112 that the retail sale of alcoholic liquor shall be prohibited within the borders of the road district. The question for decision was "Shall the sale of alcoholic liquor at retail be prohibited in road district No. 6, Morgan county, Ill.?"

The vote was more than two to one in favor of keeping the taverns out of the district, which includes Markham and the Point church community. The voters determined to bring the matter to a vote when the rumor got abroad that plans were on foot to establish a tavern within a few hundred yards of the church. Dries in the district waged a vigorous campaign.

I thank my many friends and well-wishers for their support in our road election. Let's co-operate for efficient administration. Beatrice Brockhouse.

Oldest Mercantile Firm at White Hall Has Changed Hands

Lowenstein Store Founded in 1876 is Purchased by Lynn C. Smith

White Hall—Lynn C. Smith has purchased the Lowenstein hardware store which is the oldest mercantile business firm in White Hall, from his uncles Mark and Claude Lowenstein, and will continue the business in the Lowenstein building. Marvin Cox who has been employed in the store for several years will continue in the store and Messrs. Mark and Claude Lowenstein will retire.

The Lowenstein store was established in 1876 by the late Louis Lowenstein in the building next door which is now occupied by the Griswold and Dawdy Furniture store.

From Australia
Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Janetzki and daughter, Lois, aged four years, recently returned missionaries from Melbourne, Australia, arrived Tuesday from Toronto, Canada, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Otey on the farm west of the city. Rev. Mr. Janetzki assisted in a revival here in the First Baptist church nine years ago as an evangelistic singer, and made many friends. He and his family will spend six months in Canada where he will attend school and they will return to Australia next fall. He will preach in the First Baptist church here next Sunday morning.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

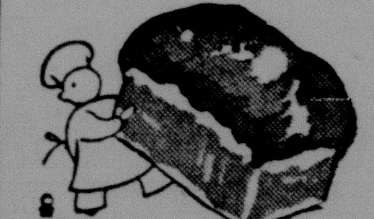

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a white label. Buy at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Club Names Delegates To Petersburg Meeting.

The Strawn's Crossing Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Adolph Bosler with a good attendance of members and two guests.

The program for the afternoon consisted of a paper entitled "Campfire Girls of America," by Mrs. Roy Newberry. A book review of Loxley Hall was given by Mrs. Katie Ledford. Roll call was answered by an April fool joke.

Delegates to the district federated club at Petersburg will be Mrs. Christine Strawn and Mrs. J. E. Rawlings with Mrs. E. B. Sturgeon and Mrs. Charles Curtis as alternates.

A social hour followed the program during which time refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Coons on April 18th.

Freshmen Dance Will Be Given at MacMurray.

Plans are being made for the Freshmen dance to be held at MacMurray College, April 27. The committee on arrangements includes: Barbara Grigsby, chairman; Perol Krummel and Doris Morgan.

Delegation Talks Arenzville Route With Highway Head

Would Build 18-foot Slab to Village from Route 104 with Federal Funds

Hope that construction of an 18-foot slab from Route 104 to Arenzville through Concord can be secured under the new federal public works bill was stimulated Tuesday when citizens of that section of Morgan county held a conference with Ernst Liebermann, state highway engineer. A Jacksonville committee was part of the delegation to boost for the road.

There is already a 9-foot slab from Route 104 to Concord. Thus half the road on that section and all of it from Arenzville to Concord remains to be built. This road would offer a short cut to Jacksonville from Beardstown, as the route from that city to Arenzville is already graveled.

Those in the party from the Arenzville-Concord route included Roy Nichols, James and John Pfeil, William Myers, James Abernathy, Herman Engelbach and James Mutch. Local citizens who accompanied the delegation included T. M. Cove, J. W. Merrigan, Charles Ator, Henry Frisch, William Casler and R. E. Welch.

Practically all of the construction sought by the citizens is in Morgan county. The road would prove highly beneficial to citizens of the Concord and Arenzville communities and would handle a large amount of traffic.

2 FHA Men Confer With Local Bankers

George Minier of Pearl, and F. E. Marshall of Chicago, both connected with the Federal Housing Administration, are in the city conferring with local bank officials relative to qualifying the banks to make loans under the FHA. Mr. Minier said Wednesday that both banks in this city are eligible for qualification.

Two types of loans are possible under the act Mr. Minier said. Applicants for loans who seek to make repairs on their homes may secure what are known as "character loans." They are required to show an income five times the annual payment of principal and interest on the loan.

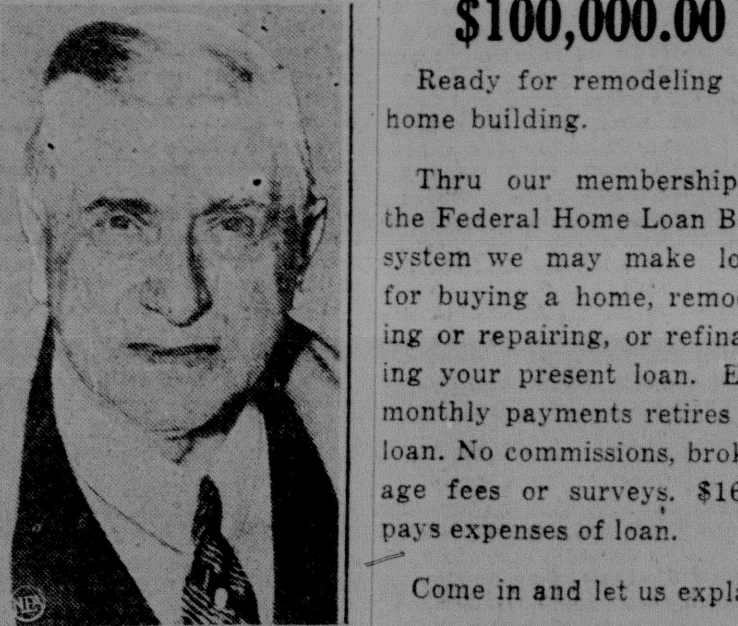

The second type of loan requires a mortgage and is for the purpose of recasting old mortgages.

Health Association Wars on House Fly

Campaign Against Pest to Be Waged with Renewed Vigor This Summer

Pointing out that leprosy, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, and dozens of other diseases are borne by the common house fly, the Illinois Tuberculosis Association Wednesday issued a warning against the pest, and outlined methods of eradication.

"The house fly is a creature of disgusting and dangerous habits, no more to be tolerated inside our dwellings and provision shops, or upon our meal tables, than a plague-stricken rat," the warning states. "The fly carries diseases not only on its hairy-covered feet and legs, but germs and parasitic worms through its digestive tract, depositing them on food stuffs and on articles handled by individuals."

Each fly killed in April means millions fewer in September. A single fly lays between 2,000 and 3,000 eggs in its life, and there may be as many as 12 generations in a single season.

The most effective method of eradicating the fly is to destroy its breeding places. Flies breed in filth and decayed matter. Bams should be cleaned daily, and the refuse treated

Basketball Not to Undergo Any Radical Changes This Year, Coaches Claim at Meet

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, April 3.—(P)—Dr. James Kelsmith, the quiet spoken man who invented the game of basketball 44 years ago, listened with an amused grin today as 200 college and high school coaches opened their campaigns for and against changes in the basketball rules.

The doctor let it be known that he was for a hard and fast game with as few rules as possible and then listened while conservative and fantastic schemes were explained by their sponsors. The doctor and other leaders of the convention, held by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, were convinced that the game, except for possible modifications of the center jump and pivot post play, would be approximately the same next season.

However, all the schemes of the coaches, here from all parts of the nation, were thrown into the convention hopper for consideration. The proposal to eliminate the center jump and alter the pivot post play, were exhibited in a special basketball game tonight at Loyola University gymnasium between DePaul of Chicago and Illinois Wesleyan.

"We want to let every coach see his pet idea for a change in action," said H. B. Orton of Cornell University, president of the association, "after they do, some of them will hide, as they will see just how foolish their schemes are. Others will convince us of the value of their suggestions."

Routine matters took up most of today's session. The arguments over rule changes open tomorrow and last through Friday. Although the coaches only make recommendations to the national rules committee, which meets in New York Sunday and Monday, their wishes usually are followed.

Lynn St. John of Ohio state, chairman of the rules committee, was present at the convention principally as an onlooker. Five other members of the rules committee also are delegates to the Coaches' Convention. They are H. G. Crisp, University of Alabama; Walter "Doc" Meanwell, University of Wisconsin; Forrest C. Allen, University of Kansas; F. W. St.

Clair, Southern Methodist, and W. A. Witte, University of Wyoming.

Public enemy number one of basketball is the increase in booting at amateur games. Coach Allen told the delegates today.

"No other college or high school sport is subjected to the same atrocities as is basketball," said Coach Allen. "Certainly under present conditions we are building sportsmanship with a huge question mark. Unless something is done soon to dignify the work of the officials and at the same time to lift college basketball from the depths of the hippodrome, from which booting originally sprang, just that long is our fast growing game in imminent danger."

"Dizzy" Dean Is Given $100 Fine

Dothan, Ala., April 3.—(P)—Dizzy Dean had something new to talk about tonight—$100 fine handed down by manager Frankie Frisch—but the oratorical pitching ace of the St. Louis Cardinals was strangely silent.

Frisch cracked a training rules whip over the backs of his lagging world champions today and the last stung two players with fines. Two others were sent home. Dizzy, well known for his inability to take the fines graciously, was stung the hardest.

Dean, Charley Gelbert, an infielder, and outfielder Red Worthington, missed the club train at Dublin, Ga., last night. By making a fast automobile trip the erring trio caught up with the baseball party at Macon, Ga., today, just in time to be greeted by Frisch in his managerial wrath.

Dizzy was fined $100, Gelbert $50 and Worthington was sent home to the St. Louis for the remainder of the spring training, now in its last week. In addition the Fordham flash sent Charlie Wilson, an infielder, home to St. Louis for breaking training for the second time.

St. Louis, April 3.—(P)—Vice president Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals, said today he was "100 per cent behind Frankie Frisch" in punishing four St. Louis Cardinals, including Dizzy Dean, for breaking training.

"If he (Frisch) feels Dizzy Dean or any other member of the Cardinals should be fined for violating club regulations, he has my full support," Rickey said.

Indians Defeat Giants 6 To 1

Jackson, Miss., April 3.—(P)—Mel Ott's home run off Monte Pearson in the fourth inning saved the New York Giants from a shutout today as the Cleveland Indians made it four out of six in their barnstorming series with a 6 to 1 victory.

The Giants were limited to seven scattered hits by Pearson and Willis Hudlin while the Indians got to Fred Fitzsimmons and Allyn Stout for eleven, five of them doubles. Fitzsimmons blanked the American Leaguers for five frames but in the sixth yielded three runs on successive hits by Wright, Averil, Trosky and Hale. The other three runs were made off Stout, who was making his first appearance since recovering from the measles.

Score:
New York (N) ... 000 100 000-1 7 0
Cleveland (A) ... 000 003 12x-6 11 2

G. HAMILTON IS NAMED CAPTAIN OF J. H. S. FIVE

Cagers Elect Center to Lead 1935-36 Team: Banquet With Coach

"George" Alfred Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, West College avenue was elected to captain the 1935-36 basketball team of Jacksonville high school at a meeting of the ten players who participated in the district and sectional tournaments for the local school. The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual basketball "feed" at the home of Coach and Mrs. Frank Walker on Grove street.

Hamilton, lanky center whose improvement during the season was one of the outstanding features of the year, will be a senior next year. He will have with him several of the players who were on this year's tournament squad. He will succeed Stanley Davis, who will graduate this spring along with Fred May, Bob Melvin, Lindemann, and Jay Mann. Lynn Ferguson has another semester of competition.

Hamilton came to the fore rapidly during the last few weeks of the campaign, playing a particularly aggressive game. His scoring improved rapidly after the middle of the year. He will have along with Ferguson, Elmer Lukeman, Wilbur Bankist, and Bob Moxon for a team with which to begin next year's schedule.

World's Series For Collegiate Teams Planned

Plan to Hold Contest in New York City June 24

By BOB CAVAGNARO
New York.—(P)—A college baseball "world series" featuring eight outstanding American teams and possibly a representative from Japan, may be held in one of New York's major league parks this summer.

Andy Coakley, for 21 years baseball coach at Columbia University, announced today he had written to the supervisors of several sectional inter-collegiate athletic conferences regarding the plan and that responses from them all had been enthusiastic.

While plans for the series are in a formative state, the tournament would be held either in the Yankee stadium or the Polo Grounds—possibly in both—the week of June 24, by which time all colleges are closed and there would be no interference with the players' class work.

Four days would be required to operate the tournament. Four teams would engage in double headers on Monday, four more on Tuesday, two on Thursday and the championship, a one-game affair, would be played on Saturday. The victorious college would receive a cup and the individual players, medals.

Invitations to participate in the series have been issued to the Big Ten, Big Six, Pacific Coast, Southeastern, Southern and Southwest Conferences, and the Eastern Intercollegiate League.

CUBS ENROUTE HOME
Gallup, N. M., April 3.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs, all hands fit except two, traveled toward home today as Manager Charlie Grimm studied results of the exhibition series along the Pacific Coast. Manager Grimm said a workout would be held at Wrigley Field Friday for a two-game series with Washington on Saturday and Sunday.

Bill Lee, victim of a cold and sore throat, and Woody English, who has a slight touch of flu, were the only ailing members on the team.

SCOTT, DUCEY AND SHAW TO GET MEDALS

Picked By Roodhouse, Pittsfield And Griggsville Teams For Awards

Three more most valuable players to their teams in the Illinois Valley conference have been selected to receive the Jacksonville Journal-Courier trophies, Pittsfield, Roodhouse and Griggsville making their selections recently.

Dick Scott, forward at Roodhouse, James Ducey, guard at Pittsfield, and John Shaw, center at Griggsville, were awarded the trophies by a vote of their team-mates. The trio, representing some of the best talent in the conference, will receive gold basketballs priced within the limit set by the Illinois State High School Athletic Association, during the next few days.

Scott, who this year completes his eligibility with the Roodhouse team, was the high scorer on a low scoring team. His firing at times was sensational, with one handed shots, even while on a dead run hitting the hoop for bull's eyes. Although his 232 points for the season would indicate he was essentially the scoring threat of the team, Scott was also a good man on defense. He is intending to enroll at Washington University, St. Louis next year, where he hopes he will be able to play tennis. He competed here last year in the Journal-Courier tennis championships.

Ducey, a six foot one inch lad who never appeared to be rattled on the court, scored in 87 points for his team along with leading defense. He was at home in both a center and guard position, but was used at guard most of the year because of his defensive ability.

It fell to Ducey's lot to lead a green team, a task for which he was fitted by playing three years before becoming a regular. Pittsfield came along slowly, hitting its pace just before the district tournament when the team began winning steadily, going through to a district title and then annexing third place in the sectional tournament after giving Quincy, the champions, a stiff fight in the semifinals.

Another first year man in his position, Shaw, at Griggsville, came through so excellently that his teammates selected him to wear the Journal-Courier's medal. Six feet, 3 inches tall, Shaw, who is a senior this year, began hitting a fast clip at the start of the season, and wound up near the top of the conference scoring list, and led his teammates by a large margin.

Shaw transferred some of the ability he has shown in the class rooms, to the basketball court. He was captain of the team during the year.

White Sox Trim Galveston 11-1

Galveston, Tex., April 3.—(P)—Zeke Bonura and Vernon (George) Washington smashed out three hits each today as the White Sox crushed Galveston of the Texas league, 11 to 1, in a seven inning exhibition. Bonura and Washington each cracked out a double and two singles.

The victory was the sixth in a row for the White Sox. Since their sudden awakening, the Chicagoans have smacked out a total of 87 hits in their last six games for an average of 14 a game.

Infielders Hold Up Well As Pitchers Move About; Indees Collect Eight Safe Snacks

Illinois College's baseball team at least got off to an auspicious start in their first game of the season yesterday, winning a 9 to 4 decision over the Morgan Indees, in an extended practice game. Three Blueboy moundmen worked on the hill as Coach Ray Nussiock drove his charges through a long session in an effort to get them ready for the University of Illinois three game series this week-end.

The hurlers allowed eight blows, but Ed Lawless, Morgan Indee flinger, kept the collegiate hitting down to seven safeties. One of the safe snacks, however, was a home run by Slim Jim Winn, and another was a three ply wallop that left Eddie Reay roosting on third base.

Conditions for fielding were somewhat better yesterday than they have been thus far, but were still far from ideal. The Blueboys bobbled five times, and the Indees committed six miscues.

Today will be rather light for the ball players, Coach Nussiock tapering off in view of the stiff week-end schedule. According to present plans, Russell Davis probably will go to the mound against the Illini Friday afternoon, with Sulo Mattson going in for the second game Saturday afternoon. A combination of three pitchers probably will perform in the final game of the series, unless the coach decides to save Mattson for the third tilt.

Mattson went six innings against the Indees and showed that his control is near the accuracy he usually achieves. He had one bad inning, however, yielding three runs, the only runs the Indees were able to get up to the 11th frame. Illinois started with a rush, chalking up five runs in the first three innings before Lawless.

ILLINOIS DEFEATS WESLEYAN, 6 TO 3

Bloomington, Ill.—(P)—Illinois defeated Wesleyan, 6 to 3, in a baseball game Tuesday that was marked by frequent errors and circus catches. The Titans scored three runs in the first two innings off Pershall, but Berg held them scoreless.

Score:
Illinois ... 000 220 200-6 10 2
Wesleyan ... 210 000 000-3 7 5
Pershall, Berg and Reinhart; Hawkins, Fry and Goldsmith.

SIX HOLDOUTS

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 3.—(P)—Babe Ruth and the Boston Braves, who still have six holdouts to worry about, broke camp tonight and started their northern trek to Boston. The tribesmen will stop off Saturday for a game at Norfolk, Va.

The unsigned Braves, who will probably remain so until they reach Boston next week, are Baxter Jordan, who quit camp last week, Leo Mangum, Hal Lee, Ruppert Thompson and Joe Mowry.

MACKS WIN

Charlotte, N. C., April 3.—(P)—Charley Berry, understudy to Catcher Jimmy Fox, pitched in capable both at bat and in the field for the Philadelphia Athletics today as the A's downed the International League Syracuse Chiefs 7 to 4.

Frank Newell of Ashland was transferred business here yesterday.

146 More Farms In County Is Reported

Census Staff Makes First Report; Gain Is Over 5-Year Period

The number of farms in Morgan county has increased by 146 in the past five years. Roy Burrus, county supervisor of the federal farm census, made this announcement Wednesday, which is the first report that has been at work in the county for several weeks.

The census reveals a total of 2,282 farms in the county as of Jan. 1, 1935. The number reported in the 1930 census was 2,136. The government census defines a farm as a tract of land of three or more acres tended by a single operator.

The increase in the number of farms does not mean that there is any more land under cultivation in the county. Those who have studied conditions say it is indicative of a reduction in the size of farms due to the depression and of a return to farms of families who no longer find a living in the urban centers.

In the west the depression has done much to break up the corporation farming which had begun to cause alarm. More farms and smaller farms are now the rule. There is a lower cost of operation in the smaller farm, which also allows for accommodation of more families.

Statues of 16 great Frenchmen, which for centuries occupied a place of honor at the chateau at Versailles, have been removed and presented to the towns of the birth of the men they represent.

inois municipalities named city officials yesterday in an election that drew legions of citizens to the polls and returned many incumbent city officers to their posts.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly topped the victory list in Chicago, polling 798,150 votes over the 166,571 of his Republican opponent, Emil C. Wetten, and 87,726 of Newton Jenkins, Independent.

Contests were non-partisan in many communities, but local issues were hotly contested. Springfield voters returned Mayor John W. Kapp, Jr., president of the Illinois Municipal League, to office, defeating State Representative William J. Lawler, Republican advocate of old age pensions, by approximately 5,000 votes.

Mayor Leo W. Lenane (D) of Quincy smashed a 14 year old precedent to win reelection over W. B. Smiley (R), former mayor. Unofficial returns gave Lenane a 395 majority and returned him to the mayoral chair not held successively by the same mayor or same party since 1921.

A majority of 388 votes reelected Mayor C. Henry Bloom of Rockford, vice-president of the Illinois Municipal League, who polled 9,664 ballots. Bloom ran as a Progressive.

Rule of Zion Changes
Zion citizens rejected the slate offered by Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva and gave management of this religious colony over to an anti Voliva candidate, William N. Edwards, who polled 725 votes to the 546 of his opponent, John M. Bales. The defeat, said observers, would end the iron-clad rule of the overseer, who still maintains his position at the head of the Zion church.

A tenth mayoral term was accorded Edward N. Woodruff, 73, in Peoria by defeating the Democratic incumbent, Mayor Charles L. O'Brien. Woodruff won by 1,500, incomplete returns indicated.

Three former mayors were among five candidates defeated in Aurora when Mayor Conrad M. Baereth was reelected.

Fourteen aldermen were elected on a non-partisan basis.

Mayor George Brechnitz of Belleville, seemed to have been defeated by George Remmsnyder, who led by 200 ballots as all but seven precincts were tabulated.

All Macomb offices were retained by Republicans, except one aldermanic post. John R. Graves was named mayor.

Geneseo voters reelected Mayor Louis Rohweder by perhaps the smallest majority in the state—43 votes. The victor's platform was based on control of the city's municipal light plant and the erection of a gas plant. On a local option ballot Geneseo went wet, 1,097 to 966.

In Carbondale township saloons won by 11 votes, 302 to 291. Learning of the returns, President H. W. Shryock said he would go before the county board to ask revocation of a license issued to a tavern across the street from the Southern Illinois Teachers College.

Mayor Joe E. Anderson of Galesburg was elected to his third term, without opposition. A large complimentary vote was accorded him.

Thomas Butler, three times mayor of Alton, was defeated for reelection by Otto J. Hoffman. The latter had 6262 votes to 5,012 for Hoffman.

Three Democrats Win at Virginia

Frank Fox Unopposed for Supervisor; Maddox for Commissioner

Virginia—Three Democrats and one Republican were elected to offices in Tuesday's township election.

Following are the results:
For Supervisor—Frank C. Fox (Dem.) 55. Unopposed.

For Road Commissioner—U. G. Maddox (Rep.) 440; Martin F. Maslin, (Dem.) 306; William Zillion (Rep.) 128; Walter Way (Dem.) 98; Charles McGovern (Dem.) 43.

For Constable—John Morris (Dem.) 276. Unopposed.

Senators Probing Ship Jobs

Evidence is Presented to Show White House "Pull" Used in Awarding of Naval Contracts.

EXPOSE WAR SCARES

Washington, (P)—Evidence that a friend of James Roosevelt, son of the president, interested at the White House for naval ship building jobs for the Bath (Maine) Iron Works Corporation was introduced today by the senate munitions committee.

Previously Chairman Nye had asserted that a "Japanese war scare" was stirred up to help pass every naval appropriation before Congress. A letter written by Roger S. MacGrath, agent of the New York Life Insurance Company, to Louis McHenry Howe, secretary to President Roosevelt, said:

"The psychological effect of the administration awarded to the Bath Iron Works contracts for two new destroyers will be looked upon very favorably by the people of Maine, and will be very helpful in the rebuilding of the Democratic party in this state."

The letter was dated July 12, 1933. Eugene Thibaut, secretary treasurer of the Bath Iron Works, described MacGrath as a "friend" of James Roosevelt.

Nye made his statement after evidence had been introduced by the committee that W. S. Newell, president of Bath, Maine, Iron Works Corporation, had supplied newspapers with war news clippings.

"Just preceding each naval appropriation before Congress," Nye declared, "we have had a Japanese scare."

"How many of these scares have been stirred up for personal interest of ship builders?" The North Dakotan shot at the stocky witness.

Before Newell could reply, Nye asked again:

"Is this the only effort you exerted to stir up a scare?"

"The only one I know of," Newell replied.

Progressives in Strong Position After Elections

LaFollette Party Comes Out Ahead in Wisconsin

Progressives strengthened their position in Wisconsin and Upton Sinclair's Epic party achieved partial success in California to highlight elections in various parts of the nation.

Two more Progressives were elected to the Wisconsin state senate yesterday, bringing the LaFollette-sired party within one vote of the Democratic majority in a show of force interpreted in some quarters as a vote of confidence in the third party that put Gov. Philip LaFollette into office three months ago.

A Republican assemblyman was elected from a normally Republican district, but Progressives maintained their wide margin of power in the lower house.

In Los Angeles, one city councilman was reelected by the Sinclair forces, whose "end poverty in California" campaign failed to elect the former Socialist governor a few months ago. Apparently from 10 to 15 Epic council candidates were assured of positions in the runoff election May 7.

The Epic movement, however, placed only three out of ten candidates in the municipal judgeship race.

polled by Mrs. Belle Lettice and Mrs. Farrington of Glasgow. Mrs. Laura Frenninger, Mrs. Mollie Overton and Mrs. Carrol Doyle were shopping in Jacksonville Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble McLaughlin and family were entertained Sunday by Mrs. Wm. Stuart at Winchester where they also visited with Miss Virginia Stuart of St. Louis who was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Stuart.

Mrs. Ranson Franklin entertained several of her daughter Loretta's friends Sunday in honor of Loretta's birthday.

Mrs. John Grinsley is confined to her home by illness. She suffered a severe heart attack a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Steelman of Jacksonville visited Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Otis Steelman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Carriger and son Dean visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Renner of Pleasant Hill community.

Mr. Tom O'Riley of Beardstown visited one day the past week with his son Howard O'Riley and family.

Ethiopia Masses Troops to Meet Threat of Italians

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.—(P)—Ethiopia is moving troops up to her frontiers, authoritative sources revealed today, to meet what her government regards as a threat from Italy's East African forces.

The Ethiopian detachments were said to be moving in large numbers to the Eritrean and Italian Somali-land borders.

Government sources were quick to explain the activities were solely for defensive purposes.

Described as being organized on a more efficient basis than Ethiopia's wild tribesmen ever before have been, the troops were under strict orders from Emperor Haile Selassie to avoid contact with Italian border garrisons.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coultas and son of Winchester were visiting in Jacksonville Wednesday.

L. BIGGS LEADS CHECKER MEET

Spectators Gather Here To Watch Elimination; Play Tonight

A large crowd gathered in the Council Chambers at the City Hall last night when play in the second round of the Morgan county checker elimination contest opened.

Checker enthusiasts from Virginia, Roodhouse, Winchester, White Hall, Chapin, Mercedia and New Berlin watched the play.

Louis E. Biggs took the lead in the tournament when he finished with nine games won, none lost and one draw for the two nights play.

P. G. Stein, who has been playing fine checkers, lost his first game last night and finished with eleven wins and one loss. He lost the single game to D. S. Chapman.

A. B. Christman of Mercedia continues to play a fine brand of checkers. His score for the two nights play stands at nine wins, one loss and two draws.

Play will continue in the tournament tonight, when a recess will be taken over the week-end. Play will be resumed next Monday night.

Ralph Cluse of this city is acting as referee of the matches.

The Morgan county tourney is being conducted to select two players who will enter the Four-County tournament April 15, against players from Scott, Greene and Cass counties.

The winner of the Four-County Tournament will be given a silver trophy by the Jacksonville Journal-Courier company.

The scores for the two night play follows:

Player	Won	Lost	Draw
Louise E. Biggs	9	0	1

MURRAYVILLE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED AT MRS. COLLINS' HOME

Murrayville, April 3.—(P)—The members of the Murrayville Domestic Science club were delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. C. Collins. Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Irwin Hanback were present.

A very interesting program was presented during the afternoon as follows:

Club song.
Minute of silence in memory of the president, Mrs. C. T. Daniels.
Club prayer.

Business period conducted by the president, Mrs. R. G. Mawson.
Roll call. "School programs of other days."

Paper, "Homelife in Colonial Days"—Mrs. C. W. Gant.
Round table discussion, "Old Landmarks of Morgan County."

Closing, allegiance to the flag.
Following the program, a social hour was enjoyed, during which time a lovely refreshment course was served by the hostess.

The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. E. Symor's on Wednesday, April 10.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Mae Cade on Thursday evening, instead of with Misses Grace and Alma Jennings on Friday evening.

Mrs. S. C. Martin will be the leader of the meeting.
Mr. and Mrs. William Wade and Mrs. O. C. Coultas.

daughter, Rachel Claire of Jacksonville were callers here Tuesday.

The Past Noble Grand club has been postponed from Friday, April 5 to Friday Afternoon, April 12 on account of the Rebekah District Assembly at Springfield. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Gunn.

Mrs. Lavine Early of Jacksonville spent Wednesday with her brother Harry Cade and family.

YOUTHFUL KIDNAPER RUNS OUT OF NEW JAIL BREAK IDEAS

Oklahoma City.—(P)—Ted Cole, youthful desperado who escaped from McAlester penitentiary a year ago in a laundry bag and who sought freedom Monday as a passenger in a garbage box, apparently has run out of new ideas.

Charlie Nashert and Ed Sommers, jailers, investigating a buzzing sound, found Cole sawing at the bars of his county jail cell last night with a 4-inch blade.

Cole, once sentenced to death for a Tulsa armed robbery, was captured recently after a chase across a Dallas, Tex., hotel roof. He faces a "Lindbergh law" charge of kidnaping J. M. Rutherford, Cushing, and forcing him to drive to Springfield, Ill.

Among the Lynnville visitors in Jacksonville yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Coultas.

Chinch Bug Fears

Lead Farmers to Sign Up for AAA

Plantings of Immune Soy Bean Crop Heavy This Year

Chicago—(P)—With only about a ten percent decrease in corn-hog reduction contracts in Illinois for 1935, AAA officials say fear of chinch bugs has caused farmers to sign up in large numbers. The same percentage runs true in Iowa and Missouri, they added.

Farmers feel that they may be able to keep the insects under control by reducing their corn acreage and many are signing up for a full 30 percent reduction in acreage. The average, the AAA says, is about 20 percent, and a larger corn acreage reduction than last year is expected, even though there are not so many signers.

Soy bean planting in the northern tier of counties is exceptionally heavy and the virtual immunity of this crop to the bugs, the Illinois Agricultural Association has pointed out, has increased interest. About 1,632,000 acres will go into soy beans this spring, the association estimated, an increase of half a million over last year. In contrast, 1934 crop reports show only 2,000 acres planted to the beans twenty years ago.

Lives of Mother, Two Children Lost In Tenement Fire

Seven Other Families are Saved from Flames in Bronx

New York—(P)—Three persons lost their lives and two were seriously burned in a fire which swept a Bronx tenement early today.

Seven other families escaped.

The dead were: Mrs. Mary Doppio, 44, and two children, John, 23, and Florence, 11.

The father, William, 42, and a son, Nicholas, 14, are in Lincoln Hospital in a critical condition.

Another son, Vito Doppio, 22, escaped after he had aroused the others. Firemen said the others were overcome when they opened the door of their apartment, allowing flames to sweep into the place.

The fire started in a first floor market owned by the Doppio family and the flames shot up a wooden stairway.

DENIED RETRIAL

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge of Chicago was denied a rehearing today by the Illinois supreme court, which stuck by its ruling that the former collector of internal revenue must go to jail for failure to pay damages in a suit for alienation of affections.

Bluffs visitors in the city yesterday included Mrs. Frank Lyons.

RESIGNS FROM PAROLE BOARD

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—The resignation of Edward G. Zilm of Streator from the state parole and pardon boards was received today at Governor Horner's office, where it was said it probably would be accepted as of April 1.

Among the Concord callers in the city yesterday was Mrs. Floyd Morris. Mrs. Clara Nickel of Concord was visiting in Jacksonville Wednesday.

BLACKBURN IN TALK TELLS OF HIS PLATFORM

Problems Of City Will Become His With Advice Of Citizens, He Says

Fletcher J. Blackburn, Republican candidate for mayor declared in an address in the First Ward last night, that if he is elected mayor on April 16, he will see to it that the city lives within its income, and that taxpayers will not be burdened with additional special assessments.

He stated that in regard to rehabilitation of the Jacksonville water and light plant, he would be guided by the wishes of the voters of Jacksonville.

His address follows:

"Being mayor of a city the size of Jacksonville is a serious business. Our city has its problems, the solution of which is important to the welfare of our people. If the people honor me with their choice as mayor I will regard these problems as my own responsibility but I will at the same time be guided by the advice and counsel of the citizens. A city administration is as good as its advisers, and every citizen must feel it his duty to give his best counsel in civic affairs and exercise his best judgment when he is called upon for civic obligations.

"If I am elected mayor I will need the co-operation of all citizens, and I shall expect it. No man can run a city government alone, and I do not intend to attempt to do so. Jacksonville has passed through some hard years, and her people have borne the battle well. The city weathered the financial storms and is on the way out of the depression. Yet there are still important things to be done.

Economy and Efficiency

"I stand for an administration of city government as economical as it is possible to make it and still maintain the efficiency the citizens have a right to expect. I propose to conduct the affairs of the city on a sound business basis and to get for all the people the most their taxes will buy, but within the limits of a balanced budget.

"I do not expect to burden the property owners with new public improvements. They are still paying assessments from which they should be free before any further improvements are undertaken. If improvements are made it shall not be without the full consent of the property owners concerned.

"I believe something should be done to rehabilitate the water pumping plant. The report of the citizens committee appointed to investigate the project indicates that the plant needs rehabilitation. But I feel that the people should have an opportunity to say what shall be done and how much money they want to spend. It must not be forgotten that any payments for improvements must come from the water revenue and not from general taxation. Just how much of this water income the people want to allocate to payment of new bonds and interest it is up to them to say.

Credit Good Now

"Before this city was caught in a financial storm, there was no municipality in the state with a more substantial credit or more excellent budget system. Much has since been done to bring our finances thru the crisis, and today the city is returning to its former condition. I shall certainly do everything possible to keep the city going along toward the goal of its former prosperity. The city's credit is good and it must be kept that way. The budget is working well and it will continue to guide the expenditure of the city's income. I feel that the city's business is the business of its citizens and that it is as important as any private business can ever be."

Robert Keating, candidate for city clerk, spoke briefly on his qualifications for the office.

Miss Gertrude Hamilton, candidate for city treasurer, addressed the audience on the system being used in the treasurer's office which was installed during her employment there.

John W. Baptist and Ralph Green, candidates for alderman in the First Ward pledged themselves to see that the streets of their ward are oiled if they are elected.

JURY TRIES 2 TIMES. GETS RIGHT ANSWER

Find Defendant Guilty First Time But Miss Damage Claim

A jury in the Morgan County circuit court tried twice yesterday, and got the right answer. Reporting that they had reached a verdict after debating for some time over whether George Brown owned J. H. Shutt a $42 coal bill, and finding that the defendant did owe the bill but that the damages were only $27, the jury was told to go back to the jury room and decide on a question of fact.

Judge Walter Wright instructed the jury to determine whether the bill was owed and if such was the case to award the full amount of the suit. The jury retired and found that Brown owed the bill.

The case was appealed to the circuit court from a justice court. Brown contended that the coal was sold to a tenant on his farm and that therefore he was not responsible for the debt. Attorney E. Etter represented Shutt, and D. J. Staley was the attorney for the defendant. The case was given to the jury before noon, but it was late in the afternoon before the case was finally cleared up.

QUARANTINE ON DOGS PLANNED TO END RABIES

Morgan County One Of Worst Infected Areas; Human Lives At Stake

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(P)—A state-wide quarantine on dogs in an attempt to curb the spread of rabies is under consideration, Dr. Frank J. Jirka, director of public health, said today.

The announcement was made at the close of a conference between Jirka, Dr. Herman C. Rinehart, state veterinarian, and Dr. J. J. McShane, chief state epidemiologist.

"The drastic action of setting up a strict quarantine has been postponed temporarily to give local communities and counties a final opportunity to cope with the situation," the director said.

With the attacks of dogs afflicted with rabies on people and livestock increasing rapidly, and with the state funds for providing the Pasteur treatment for victims virtually exhausted, Jirka called the conference to consider future moves.

"State authorities are not warranted in tolerating the further menace of rabies," Jirka declared. "Human lives are at stake and nothing is more horrible nor more pitiful than death from hydrophobia. There are probably no less than 500 mad dogs now at large in Illinois. The Pasteur treatment vaccine has been supplied to 330 people at a cost of $3,000 and funds for this purpose are nearly exhausted.

"The worst epidemic centers of canine rabies are in Bond, Cook, Franklin, Jackson, Madison, Morgan, Peoria, Perry, St. Clair, Saline, Sangamon, Wayne and Williamson counties. Heads from rabid dogs from one-half the counties in the state have been examined. The situation is serious."

Questioned about the report that Morgan county was one of the worst infected areas in the state, Dr. S. J. Carter last night stated that he has had no new cases for the past two or three weeks, but that about three weeks ago he had several cases at once.

There is no question but that the infestation in the county is serious, Dr. Carter said, requiring some drastic action. The trouble will always be present, he continued, as long as dogs are allowed to run wild.

Alderman J. U. Day, chairman of the health committee of the city council, said that conditions in the city were none too cheerful. He said he had had reports during the last few days of additional cases of rabies.

SAVINGS AND LOAN GETS AUTHORIZATION AS FEDERAL AGENCY

'Days of '49' Will Live Again at Exposition

Just as in the days when gold-mad prospectors rushed to California in '49, a mining camp village is to rise in San Diego's Balboa Park. As an exhibit in the California Pacific International Exposition this summer, the "Golden Gulch," shown in this artist's sketch, will be reached by visitors by stagecoach and mule-back. Real gold will be mined, and the rough-and-tumble life of the early gold camps reproduced.

HOUSING SHOW ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

Interesting Talks Given During Day; Many Features Listed

The Better Housing Exposition which has been underway since Monday under the auspices of the local Real Estate Board and sponsored by the Federal Government continues to draw increasing numbers of interested citizens from day to day. The talks that have been given from time to time on the various topics pertaining to the home have been of exceptional interest and instructive in many technical points.

The talk at 3 p. m. yesterday afternoon on "Who owns the Home" by Judge W. E. Thomson brought up some points of information not usually well understood even by property owners.

At 8 o'clock, I. E. Paretti, Secretary of the Morgan county farm bureau gave an address on "Farm Homes of the Future," that was really an inspiring collection of advanced ideas.

Observing comments in and about the various exhibits indicates a very decided interest in modernization of homes. It seems quite probable that the result of all this will be decidedly to the advantage of our city and community. There are numerous new items of household furnishing and equipment not in common use which are being exhibited by the various business firms of the city.

The question of insulation has only recently developed general interest and several methods are on display. Refrigeration is also in an advanced stage and the latest of all types are to be seen in the show. The stoker just now coming into general use is much in evidence and creating added interest. The painting demonstration at 7:30 each evening by some members of the local painters union, always attracts an interested audience.

Large Number Of Guests

Yesterday marked the largest attendance from out of town, so far. It will be remembered the display is open from one o'clock p. m., until 10, and there is no admission charge.

Miss Louella Blackburn and Miss Ellen Blackburn, of Jacksonville, called on relatives in this neighborhood Wednesday afternoon.

In the road election held Tuesday, April 2, those who received the highest votes in District No. 2 were Fred Standley, for road commissioner, and John Daniels, for road clerk.

The next week the college suspended classes for two days to hold the Institute on Peace and War, on the program of which many viewpoints were competently represented.

The speakers were as diverse as Sherwood Eddy and Edward A. Hayes, recently national commander of the American Legion; Dorothy Eitzer, executive secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, made an appeal for pacifism, and Captain F. A. Metcalf, U. S. A., presented the views of a professional soldier. H. C. Engelbrecht told about munitions makers and C. F. Eichenauer gave the opinions of a traveled and thoughtful editor. What was the result of the discussion? The same questionnaire was presented for the second time and the voting was done under the same conditions. The two sets of returns were then compared.

It was discovered that the girls were on the pacifist rather than the militarist side of the fence on both votes, but that there was a noticeable shift to conservative positions. Government munitions monopoly was approved both before and after the Institute, but got a much smaller majority on the second vote. The government's naval policy was endorsed by a tiny majority on the first vote and by a slightly larger one after the students had had an opportunity of hearing Sherwood Eddy point out what he considered some of its dangers. On the first poll 70 per cent thought that greater preparedness would lead to war rather than peace, while on the second vote only 64 per cent were of this opinion. The number who were willing to be "girl soldiers" if called, rose from 41 per cent to 50 per cent.

Curiously, there was little change in the kind of attitude they thought the young men ought to take. On both votes only 8 per cent approved the orthodox young man who will serve "wherever and whenever the government directs." On both votes 26 per cent approved the young man who will fight in defense of the continental United States, but who will refuse to serve in an expeditionary force. But the number who approved of the absolute "non-resister" rose from 4 per cent to 7 per cent. The position which appealed to the greatest number on both polls (46 per cent on the first and 51 per cent on the second) was that of the "opportunist" young man "who will not pledge himself in advance to any position, but will judge according to the circumstances when a war comes."

QUESTIONNAIRE SHOWS TREND ON WAR ISSUE

MacMurray Girls Answer Two Series Of Questions; Result Interesting

What happens to the college girl's opinions on military affairs when she is given an opportunity to hear several speakers of varying viewpoints? Will they be more radical or more conservative? That they will be more conservative is suggested by the results of an experiment tried with the student body of MacMurray College in connection with the Institute on Peace and War.

A questionnaire was prepared by a member of the faculty and was given to the students in assembly. They were asked to vote at once on the questions presented, to vote without time for consultation or careful thought. Their opinions were asked on government monopoly of the munitions industry, on the question of naval parity with Great Britain and superiority to Japan, on whether they thought greater preparedness would lead to peace or war, and whether they would be willing to serve should women be called on for military service. Different male attitudes to military service were outlined, ranging from complete non-resistance to orthodox compliance in any kind of war, and they were asked which of these they approved. No returns on the vote were announced.

The next week the college suspended classes for two days to hold the Institute on Peace and War, on the program of which many viewpoints were competently represented.

The speakers were as diverse as Sherwood Eddy and Edward A. Hayes, recently national commander of the American Legion; Dorothy Eitzer, executive secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, made an appeal for pacifism, and Captain F.
